As part of the Greater Philadelphia Corporate Volunteer Council's renewal year in transitioning to the Philadelphia Foundation, we have partnered with the Mayor's Office of Civic Engagement & Volunteer Service to recognize corporate employee volunteers at the Mayor's Annual Day of Service Ceremony. The award ceremony --- which was scheduled to take place in April (National Volunteer Month) and was postponed until Sept. 29 --- honors those who have made a positive impact in their communities through national and volunteer service.

We're excited to announce that 2020 is the inaugural year for the GPCVC Distinguished Corporate Volunteer Award as part of this ceremony. This award recognizes those employees from a GPCVC member organization who have gone above and beyond in their companies' respective employee engagement programs in such categories as commitment to service, impact and unique contributions.

Especially during a year of unprecedented disruptions and the struggles that have come with the COVID-19 Pandemic and calls for racial equity, the GPCVC and Philadelphia Foundation look forward to highlighting and celebrating the excellence in community engagement that both the winners and nominees have shown.

"Volunteerism has the power for every individual to ignite his or her passion to effect change in the community. The three winners of the Distinguished Corporate Volunteer Award are examples of how individuals with the support of their employers can work towards bettering the causes they care about," noted Diane Melley, Philadelphia Foundation's Executive Director of Second Century Initiatives & Corporate Partnerships.

We invite you to join us virtually at 6 p.m., Tues., Sept. 29 for the ceremony as we recognize those individuals of our Greater Philadelphia community who truly embody the values of the city of Brotherly Love and Sisterly Affection. Congratulations to all the nominees for their dedication and for their inspiring examples.
